

GROUND REGULATIONS EXTRATCS

1. A spectator can be admitted to the premises of a sports event if:
 - a) He is in possession of a valid ticket, season ticket or any other certificate entitling him to enter.
 - b) On admission the personal details of the holder of the ticket, season ticket or club card correspond to the details in the identification papers.
 - c) He is obviously not under the effect of alcohol, illegal drugs or other narcotics.
 - d) He does not have alcohol, illegal drugs or any other object on him that endangers the holding of the sports event, furthermore other people's personal safety or material security, the possession of which is prohibited by the rules of law or the organiser prohibited its taking in to the sports event.
 - e) He does not have on him any displays, flags inciting to hatred against others or totalitarian symbols prohibited by the rules of law.
 - f) He is not under the effect of a ban or prohibition.
 - g) He consents to the search of clothing and baggage.
 - h) He acknowledges that in the course of the sports event television or sound recordings can made of him in the places described in the rules of law.
 - i) He acknowledges that in the course of the sports event the organisers continuously control the observation of the ground regulations.

2. The policemen providing the event's security and the employee of the organiser organ is entitled to search the sports event participant's clothing and baggage, to establish his personal identity, to remove or hold him back from the event.

3. The participant can enter the premises of the sports event only through the gate designated on the ticket, season ticket or invitation card, approach his sector on the designated route and occupy the seat displayed on his ticket/season ticket/invitation card. He can leave the sports establishment at the point of entry, unless the organiser or arranger or the police disposes otherwise.

4. The person who steps into or throws anything into the area closed off from the spectators or a certain group of the spectators commits a crime. The organisers hold back the person committing the breach of law and hand him over to the police.

5. The spectator's rights and obligations at the sports event:
 - a) He shall observe the dispositions of the ground regulations, the specifications prescribed by the organiser and the arrangers' orders.
 - b) He cannot perform an activity that disturbs, sabotages the sports event's order or endanger the participants' personal safety or material security.
 - c) He cannot cover his face intentionally or hinder his personal identification.
 - d) He cannot consume alcohol at the international matches organised by FIFA and UEFA in the premises of the sports establishment.
 - e) He must observe the smoking regulations.
 - f) He cannot behave in a racist or inciting manner.
 - g) Ha can place a float, flag onto a fence, handrail, column only with the organiser or arranger's permission.
 - h) He is obliged to leave the premises of the sports ground on the organiser, arranger or police's demand.

6. If the spectator does not observe the content of the ground regulations, he will be removed from the sports event or held back until the arrival of the police.

7. The spectator or, in case of more tortfeasors, the spectators participating in causing damage are collectively liable for the damages caused through the breach of the security regulations. The damage liability does not affect the spectator's misdemeanour or criminal liability. The tortfeasor is obliged to pay for the costs resulting from the tort, to the sports organisation.

8. The organiser's rights and obligations for the sake of the safe completion of the sports events:

a) He informs the participant of the sports event of the terms and conditions of the admission, the method of control and the possibility of removal outside the sports establishment and in its premises in well-visible, updated bills with pictograms, in Hungarian, English, German and the foreign guest sports organisation's country's language.

b) He takes care of the documented reception of the objects that cannot be taken in according to the ground regulations, the safe keeping and returning to the entitled person on leaving. If the owner does not show up for the objects that could not be taken in, within two hours from the end of the sports event, the organiser or arranger proceeds according to the rules of responsible safe-keeping.

c) He is entitled to observe the premises of the sports event, the admission points, the public domain belonging to the sports establishment and the designated parking areas with cameras making the participants' individual identification possible, make recordings and treat them according to the disposition of the rules of law.

8. The organiser took out liability insurance for the participants.

9. For the sake of the spectators' safe leaving the police can hold back the spectators in the sports establishment until the leaving of the adverse supporter groups from the sports establishments, the operational zone of the police safeguarding and the supporters' escort route.

10. If the sports event did not take place or it happened with the exclusion of the spectators or the limitation of the number of spectators, the ticket price will be refunded within three working days. If the sports event was interrupted, the tickets are valid for the repeated event.

11. The above rules were pinned up at the entrance points of the sports establishment in Hungarian, English, German and the guest sports organisation's languages.